1	I'm not an OLS, rather a GIS member. I had thought this was going to address specifics about uncertainty related to shifts in magnetic north, etc. It simply wasn't what I was anticipating.	7/9/2015 4:04 PM
2	It seems too general and remote for me	7/9/2015 2:56 PM
3	Excellent discussion, Izaak's use of current events was great.	7/9/2015 12:16 PM
4	Every time Izaak speak about new and innovative topics	7/9/2015 11:45 AM
5	Intriguing concept Izaak portrayed, but bit scary	7/9/2015 9:23 AM
6	Yes/No perhaps don't quite right here. My true answer would be somewhat.	7/8/2015 3:55 PM
7	We had no audio, the IT people will have figure that one out	7/8/2015 3:08 PM
8	Very much so	7/8/2015 3:00 PM
9	A bit dry.	7/8/2015 2:59 PM
10	Subject matter too abstract	7/8/2015 2:29 PM
11	Did not find the subject matter interesting.	7/8/2015 2:17 PM

1	The speaker has obviously made web presentations before. I liked being able to see him and switch between him & the slide deck using the webinar app.	7/9/2015 4:04 PM
2	Excellent and well qualified presenter.	7/9/2015 12:16 PM
3	Presenter was well prepared and generally to the point.	7/8/2015 6:13 PM
4	A little confusing at times.	7/8/2015 5:07 PM
5	no audio	7/8/2015 3:08 PM
6	is he saying the basic principals of survey law are going to be replaced by phone apps and future courts will except this we allready have problems with the pincosion efect among legal surveyors who think measured distance	7/8/2015 2:33 PM

1	I wasn't aware that land claims introduced a level of 'uncertainty'. As stated, I lost interest too quickly to judge this appropriately.	7/9/2015 4:04 PM
2	He absolutely helped me to see things in a new way.	7/9/2015 2:36 PM
3	Put information in a different context, made it more analytical.	7/9/2015 12:16 PM
4	no audio	7/8/2015 3:08 PM
5	Somewhat	7/8/2015 3:00 PM
6	Or rather it gave me something to ponder.	7/8/2015 2:59 PM
7	I suppose as better and better technologies emerge, we will see a time come when the courts will 'put the most weight' on the most reliable evidence - coordinate values!!	7/8/2015 2:38 PM
8	is uber an indication that cell phone gps and apps will replace survey law you think the courts are crouded now good luck	7/8/2015 2:33 PM
9	sort of	7/8/2015 2:28 PM

1	Depending on topic.	7/13/2015 11:31 AM
2	Probably, if it is relevant to the work I do.	7/9/2015 4:04 PM
3	maybe	7/9/2015 2:49 PM
4	depending upon topic. This was my first one, but definitely not my last. I look forward to the podcast becoming available so I can listen again	7/9/2015 9:23 AM
5	It would be nice to get more notice as I was late due to another commitment.	7/8/2015 6:21 PM
6	If it meets my schedule, I seem to have something scheduled for most of these...	7/8/2015 6:13 PM
7	Depending on the topic and if available to non-OLS's	7/8/2015 5:03 PM
8	A bit more notice would be appreciated - I heard of it via ACLS only a day before! Thanks.	7/8/2015 3:10 PM
9	Yes as soon as the IT people find where the audio problem is	7/8/2015 3:08 PM
10	Not an AOLS member so if available through Geo Ed Yes	7/8/2015 3:00 PM
11	Possibly. I am not a practising CLS so some of the sessions are not applicable to my situation.	7/8/2015 2:28 PM
12	depending on topic and availability	7/8/2015 2:20 PM

1	Surveying caution in lands that once may have been an Indian Reserve like the Credit Indian Reserve. Especially pertaining to this presentation..	7/9/2015 5:41 PM
2	We require more Meeting hours instead of Formal hours for our CPD.	7/9/2015 1:59 PM
3	The problem that is occurring with GIS. GIS users are producing products that show boundaries and land ownership that are incorrect in some cases. Users and GIS technicians are not aware of the origin of this data. This is an issue in the forestry sector when contractors are given data that is not verified by a PLS.	7/9/2015 12:16 PM
4	Topics such as one presented that are thought provoking or relating to future trends that could impact the geomatics profession.	7/9/2015 10:19 AM
5	Picture quality was somewhat poor	7/9/2015 8:29 AM
6	Something more GIS related. I do realize that most of the members are cadastral...	7/8/2015 6:13 PM
7	technical issues with georeferencing.	7/8/2015 5:07 PM
8	Even though there are usually not a lot of questions time needs to be set aside. I had another 1pm meeting and had to break away before the webinar was halted at your end.	7/8/2015 3:55 PM
9	iphone, FB, IG, Twitter, etc... vs. surveyors	7/8/2015 3:11 PM
10	1. coordinate-based cadastre 2. mobile cadastral surveying / real estate smartphone applications	7/8/2015 3:10 PM
11	PRESENTATION SLIDES SHOULD BE MADE AVAILABLE TO THE ATTENDEES.	7/8/2015 2:34 PM
12	maby a second openion or point of view on some subjects this one seems to be a means of drumming up buisness for lawiers	7/8/2015 2:33 PM

1	This was a real brain burner, Excellent information.	7/9/2015 5:41 PM
2	Izaak was terrific, Thank You,	7/9/2015 12:16 PM
3	I'm a GIM and find most of the CPD content cadastral related. Today was good although it was focused on the cadastral side the content applied to any technological change affecting established practices. Interpretation of the law and rulings interests me.	7/8/2015 6:13 PM
4	no	7/8/2015 5:07 PM
5	Still too much talk about continuing education credits. On the registration confirmation and on the AOLS website, all the required information is there. Since this is on the internet with a WWW audience, all this talk makes us look unprofessional. As if we are not interested in the content, only the credit.	7/8/2015 4:44 PM
6	These webinars are excellent. Content and presentation of Izaak's was particularly good. This is a format which is very convenient to attend. I'm proud that the AOLS spear headed this.	7/8/2015 4:38 PM
7	Keep them coming!	7/8/2015 3:55 PM
8	sound kept dropping off (may have been my connection)	7/8/2015 3:32 PM
9	tomorrow is here	7/8/2015 3:11 PM
10	This looked like, I imagine, Izaak's one-day survey law workshop looked last winter. I was wondering what other developments are underway (mobile cadastral apps, e.g. using 'augmented reality' for real time viewing of cadastral fabric) that he might be able to share with the audience.	7/8/2015 3:10 PM
11	Geo Ed is a great conduit for a wide range of CPD	7/8/2015 3:00 PM
12	NO	7/8/2015 2:34 PM
13	Interesting topic but more information could have been covered in an hour.	7/8/2015 2:30 PM

1	More survey related examples of where uncertainty could come into play.	7/13/2015 11:31 AM
2	The build up to the real topic was a bit too long.	7/9/2015 5:41 PM
3	cut down to one hour.	7/9/2015 1:59 PM
4	On any presentation slide there should never be more than 50 words, if there are people tend to read the slide rather than pay attention to the speaker.	7/9/2015 1:16 AM
5	Speaker was very 'dry'. I was yawning after 20 minutes. Hard to learn with dry material and a dry speaker.	7/8/2015 6:32 PM
6	Sound quality through the GoTo PC connection. could be better but I am nitpicking	7/8/2015 6:13 PM
7	nothing	7/8/2015 5:07 PM
8	The audio could be a little better. Video is normally grainy. To be expected. But I bet little can be done, as these are technology limitations.	7/8/2015 4:38 PM
9	Perhaps a very specific example of surveying. I got a lot out of the webinar but had to make the inferences myself.	7/8/2015 3:55 PM
10	audio quality was atrocious - not sure if that was due to my system	7/8/2015 3:10 PM
11	Need AUDIO	7/8/2015 3:08 PM
12	We felt time was wasted explaining about the CPD again. Note enough time for questions at the end. Maybe the seminar could be 15 minutes longer to accommodate more questions.	7/8/2015 3:06 PM
13	More screen activity on power points as cannot use webcam to see presenters. My system can't handle both.	7/8/2015 2:59 PM
14	NOTHING	7/8/2015 2:34 PM
15	Faster pace, more intense.	7/8/2015 2:30 PM
16	none	7/8/2015 2:28 PM
17	Sound quality could be improved. Possibly at my end???	7/8/2015 2:28 PM
18	More practical examples	7/8/2015 2:25 PM
19	Nothing	7/8/2015 2:21 PM
